-Spectator Notes-

Electric clocks in Carmel started the week all wrong. Even now some aren't on time. It's easily explained by a power failure in the wee hours of Sunday morning. The failure was Peninsula-wide, but the citizens over the hill evidently live on closer schedules so most of their clocks were right by Tuesday. It's nice to know that five minutes aren't so important after all - at least in Carmel.

Friends here learn that Robert Emmett O'Brien has landed in Antwerp and is bound for Amtserdam where he will spend two weeks before pressing on with his tour.

Ike, being busy at the moment, was unable to cut the birthday cake baked in his honor, so Mayor Horace Lyon cut it for him. The party was held in the Dolores street booth of the Monterey Peninsula Republican Women's Club, Tuesday. Cake, coffee and doughnuts were passed out in honor of the occasion.

Harry Barris, one of the original Rhythm Boys, will appear at the Mission Ranch starting Saturday Night. Barris along with Bing Crosby and Al Rinker made up the famous trio which zoomed to fame with Paul Whiteman's band. We hear Barris will show up at the ranch tonight - unofficially.

Al Railton, the Herald's Carmel adman, will be leaving next week for Texas where he is entering a new field. He will be in charge of the Southwest territory for Muralite, a new three-dimensional display gimmick. It carries advertising either outdoors or indoors. He says that as long as he'll be in Texas he might marry an oil well.

While in Caracas, Venezuela, Derek Rayne was advised to restrict his movements to the downtown area by some friends of his there. They explained that there were purges going on in the outlying districts and that if he was witness to any rough stuff, he might find it difficult to leave the country. He stayed close to his hotel.

Lollie Fassett, genial Nepenthe hostess, is behing the stove for the first time. The trick, she is finding out, is to get all the food for each party finished at the same time. She has put up charts to help plan her cooking, but it's still a little nerve-wracking when the dinner crowd arrives.

UNDERGROUNG WIRING IN CARMEL DISCUSSED BY PG & E OFFICIALS

The possibility of putting power lines underground in Carmel was informally discussed this week by the city council and Pacific Gas and Electric Company officials. That the proposal is well within the range of possibility pleased the council greatly.

The matter arose when the PG & E officials asked for an informal meeting to see if the council would consider an indeterminate franchise to replace the present 50-year term franchise. The present franchise expires in 1985.

The indeterminate franchise is wanted by the company because it cannot sell bonds to be retired after a certain date, fixed by the termination date of the franchise. With no termination date, the sale of bonds is considerably less complicated.

The indeterminate franchise is to all intents and purposes permanent. But is is not exclusive, so any other company or the city itself could serve the community if it so desired –as is now the case also.

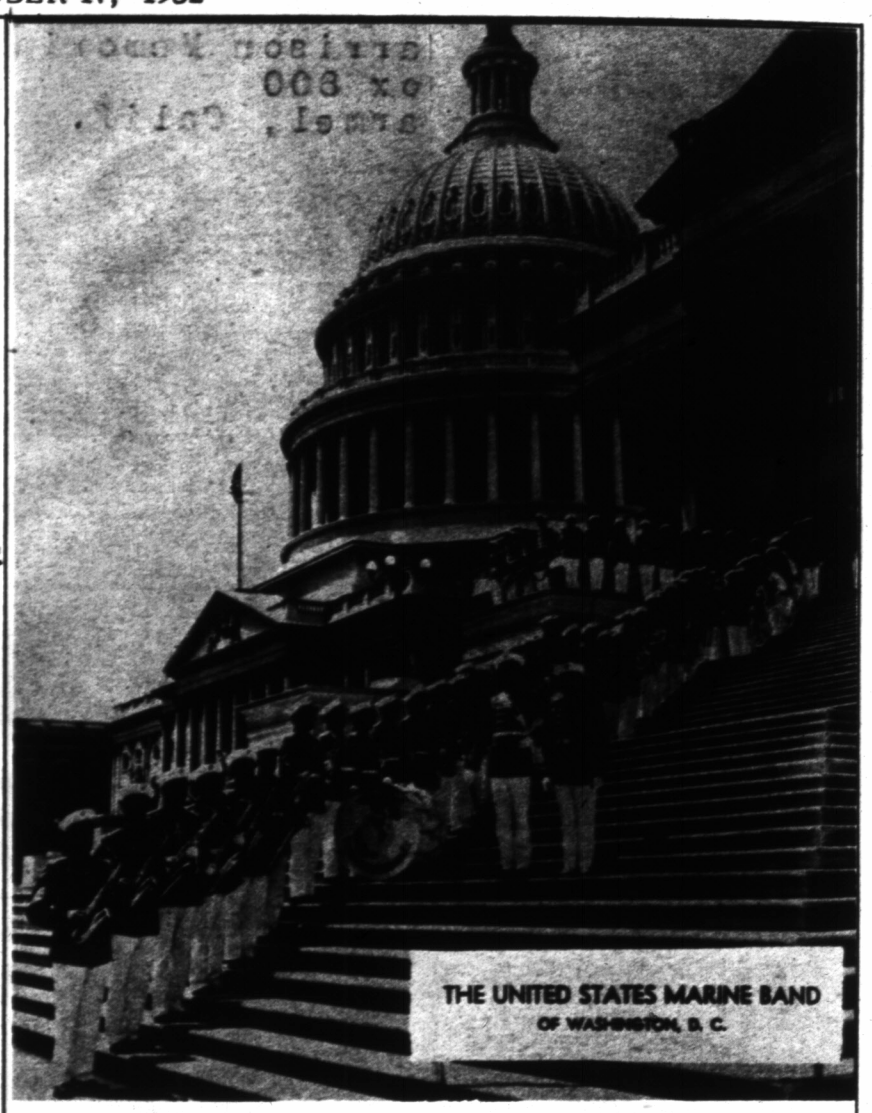
The council members said they would be glad to consider the indeterminate franchise if the PG & E would consider the underground wiring proposal.

T.E. Ward, division manager of the company, said that the two proposals are separate and should be considered as such. He noted that the council had complete power at any time to pass an ordinance requiring that lines be underground. Then the company would be obliged to follow the law. If the cost proved excessive, he said, the company would probably appeal to the Public Utilities Commission for a rate increase to cover the added expense.

However, he explained, the usual procedure is for the work to be done piecemeal through co-operation of the city and the utility. This system involves a certain number of lines going underground each year.

The two questions will be discussed further at a formal meeting in the future, the group decided.

It was noted during the discussion that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company must also be involved in any program to put wiring underground. If tentative plans can be adopted, the PT & T will be brought into the discussion.



THE UNITED STATES MARINE BAND, probably the finest musical organization of its kind in the world, will play two concerts today at Fort Ord at 2:00 and 8:00 p.m. The appearance of the band here is sponsored by the Monterey Kiwanis Club, and proceeds of the concert will go for uniforms for the Monterey Peninsula College Band.

PLANNERS ASK ACTION ON COUNTY-WIDE SMOG CONTROL ORDINANCE

Somewhat annoyed at lack of action, the Carmel planning Commission has issued a statement demanding prompt consideration of a county-wide ordinance for control of air polution. The statement is in the form of an open letter to the board of supervisors.

The planners initiated the proposal about two years ago, It was presented to the supervisors and they instructed the district attorney to look into the matter. Correspondence reveals that a study was made of similar ordinances in other communities and a tentative ordinance for Monterey County drafted. But the matter was never brought formally before the supervisors, as far as the Carmel planners can determine.

In the latest letter, the threat of smog is clearly outlined and immediate action requested.

The commission made clear that it does not wish to place blame for lack of action on the supervisors. The original letter, calling for consideration of an ordinance almost two years ago, was sent to communities all over the county. None of these has responded.

Now is the time to act, the commission points out, before the smog is settled over the Peninsula – not after.

SENATOR KEFAUVER HERE NEXT TUESDAY

Senator Estes Kefauver, who is campaigning on behalf of Democratic nominee Adlai Stevenson, will speak at Monterey County Airport next Tuesday, October 21.

The Senator will arrive at 2:15 p.m. and will remain for about an hour and a half, during which time he will speak informally and answer any questions.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF STATE'S FUTURE GIVEN BY BUSINESS EXPERTS

A glowing picture of Calif. ornia's financial situation, both present and future, was given at the state Real Estate Association convention in San Francisco last week. Men prominent in all phases of business and finance spoke to the group.

Gladys Johnston, only member of the Carmel board who attended, said that these experts all agreed that the present business and industrial expansion is no boom. They cited facts and figures to back up claims that the growth is soilid and will not die a quick death in case of recession.

Mrs. Johnston added that the Peninsula "is bound to feel the reflection of this statewide expansion. There is no reason for anyone here becoming discouraged about future business prospects."

At the convention, Mrs. Johnston and Wright Fisher of Monerey were re-elected directors of the state organization.

RIVER SCHOOL GRADING BIDS CALLED FOR

The grading of th e River School site was put out for bids this Wednesday by the Carmel School Board. Architect Thomas Elston, Jr., working with Engineer George Bestor, estimates that the job will amount to about $1,000.

Elston reported that he is working on plans now for the school, and that construction bids will probably be called for in February or March. The total cost of the proposed building will be about $70,000, with a margin of $1,000 alloted for incidental and uncalculated exp enses.

At the same meeting of the Board, Donald Craig, high school teacher and Carmel City Councilman, presented a petition on behalf of the teachers of the district for a $200 a year, across the board, increase in teachers' salaries. He is a member of the Carmel Teachers' Association Salary Committee, and presented their report which summarizes cost of living data and arguments in favor of the proposed raise. The total amount involved for the district would be about $10,000 for certificated employees, and an additional $2,500 for non-certificated personnel.

The Board put over an answer to the request until it has had time to study the report.

HIGH SCHOOL CROSSING GUARD WILL BE HIRED

A guard for the main crossing into Carmel High School at Highway 1 will be hired, it was decided at this week's meeting of the Carmel School Board. A request for state aid in bearing the exp ense is pending, but until it is decided, the district will hire the job done.

The work would be for three hours or so a day., and might be given to a high school student.

MARINE BAND CONCERTS AT FORT ORD TODAY

Tonight the Peninsula has an opportunity to hear what is probably the finest organization of its kind—the United States Marine Band. This unique program will be offered twice, a matinee at 2 and an evening concert at 8, both at Fort Ord.

Sponsored by the Monterey Kiwanis Club, proceeds from the concerts will go to the Monterey Peninsula College's band uniform fund.

The band's Fort Ord appearance is part of its annual concert tour which will cover 17 states this year.

JOANNE NIX BALLET PROGRAM IN NOVEMBER

As an unusual two-in-one production, the Carmel Ballet Academy will present a pair of full-length attractions the weekend of November 21-22-23 in Sunset School auditorium.

Starring Carmen Mercante Fast as queen of the sardine fleet, "Fishermen's Festival" is one of the ballets programmed, adapted from the Feast of Santa Rosalis that occasions a colorful annual celebration in Monterey. This will be the first time that such an unique local event has been portrayed through the medium of the dance.

"La Botique Fantastique" (The Fantastic Toyshop) is the second offering. It was first produced at Lambeth, England, in 1919, and has enjoyed lasting public favor since. Pamela Beales and Renee Wurzmann will be the first dancers in this number, with Cole Weston as The Toymaker in a supporting role.

Both presentations are now in rehearsal under the guidance of Joanne Nix, director of the academy. She is also arranging the choreography, with Erika Franke executing the elaborate set decorations. Save for Weston and Mrs. Fast, the ballets are cast entirely from school age pupils of the academy.

Recently returned from a prolonged tour of Britain and the continent, where she observed the latest trends in ballet and musicomedy, Mrs. Nix is embarked upon the forthcoming production with a refreshened fund of experience and she seeks to outdo the success of her "Cinderella" hit of 1951. She is a veteran of the ballet herself, having danced with Sadler's Wells and other famed companies.

AMERICAN LEGION PARTY TOMORROW IN CARMEL

The Carmel American Legion's annual Forty-Niner Party to be held this Saturday night at the Legion hall in Carmel is arousing more than casual interest among local partygoers.

With the addition to the Legion membership of many new young veterans of Korea, it bids fair to be a hoedown the like of which hasn't been seen in the staid club rooms since the Manzanita Club was bellowing in full strength.

The American Legion's Women's Auxiliary has done yeoman work on the ticket sales and among the fifty door prizes to be distributed will be a twenty-one inch R.C.A. Victor television set.

Dancing to the music of Angelo De Maria's band will start at 9:00 p.m. and continue until 1:00 a.m. with the bar closing the taps at 2:00 a.m.

FATHERS INVITED TO PTA MEETING

October 22 is the date of the next PTA meeting. It will be held in the new all-purpose room at Woods School (Dolores just north of 1st ave.) so that all parents and teachers may view this fine building. Dessert and coffee will be served at 7:30 p.m., preceding the meeting at 8:00. Because the topic is especially interesting to fathers, the meeting was scheduled in the evening so they could be present, and it is hoped that many will come.

Dr. Jay Davis Conner, nationally known expert on curriculum, will be the speaker. He will answer the question which plagues many parents who are concerned over the teaching methods used in the schools today: "What does the modern school do?" Dr. Conner, with a long history of study and research on education and curriculum, is outstandingly qualified to talk on this subject. His answers will be of deep interest, not only to those parents who worry that their children are not being properly educated, but to any parent of a school age child.

FINAL RESULTS in ticket sales for the American Legion's annual '49er Party tomorrow night at Carmel Post 512 are compared by Mrs. James M. Kelsey (left) and Mrs. Robert Shirley, members of the auxiliary. A television receiver will be given away during the evening's program.

Parker Kimball, the dark-haired young editor of the Carmel Valley News, made his way to the Peninsula from the state of Washington. He lives in the Valley now with his attractive wife, Millie, and their cat, Samadhi, whose name in Siamese means "Perfect Life of the Spirit" –a name the Kimballs chose after the cat was altered.

A student at Stanford in 1940, Park was talking with a fraternity brother one evening about the glamour of South America, a conversation so convincing that the two left Stanford, with three months to go until graduation, for Chile. On a minimum budget, they managed to extend their trip to a year and a half, seeing most of the southern continent, climbing mountains, lounging on the Copacabana at Rio, and one bad day, getting arrested as spies. The hoosgow incident occurred when they were nurturing dreams of glory about selling an article on Chilean aircraft production to a magazine. Snapping pictures of the new craft, they were tossed in jail, questioned and finally released when it was decided that they were not spies, only indiscreet.

When Park came back to the States in December of '41, he finished his course in political science at Stanford and then went into the Army.

In the Fifth Air Force, he saw action in the Pacific and received a goodly burst of shrapnel in the chest that sent him to the hospital for a year. He was a lieutenant in charge of an Air Strip Operation at the time of the injury.

Visits to Carmel during his student days had persuaded Park that Carmel was a fine place in which to recuperate, and he came here for a year, before becoming a guide on a dude ranch in Idaho. He stayed there three years before returning to the Valley.

Married in 1950 to his blond haired, blue-eyed wife, Millie, Park and she have been putting out the News for the last two years. . .an occupation that keeps them both busy.

A professional dancer in the Northwest, Millie is also highly talented artistically and does much artwork on their little paper, as well as playing leading roles in little theatre.

Pretty wrapped up in all Valley affairs, Park is proudest of his membership in the Tularcitos volunteer fire department. He's an interested photographer, an amateur fisherman, and the proud owner of a membership card in the Hodcarriers' Union, a memento of of his brief days as a ditch digger when he first lived in the Valley. . .before the News, before Millie, and before the mustache he recently cultivated, a neat and squarish decoration, as crisp and pleasant as Parker himself.

Carmel Valley Sun Spots

by PARKER KIMBALL

Bring your bag and your wife, too, and join the Valley clean-up Day next Saturday, October 25. . .A drive to mop up the litter strewn by knotheaded motorists along the scenic Valley Road is underway, sparked by Joe Schoeninger and Sam Brandt, the latter is chairman-for-the-day. . .Behind the drive is the Valley Property Owners' Association which will help with arrangements and procurement in the way of gunnysacks and some transportation. . .However, each individual is urged to bring along his own bag, sack, or box to stuff. . .The cavalcade will start out from Farm Center at 1 p.m., next Saturday. . .Coffee will be served by the Paul Vornholts at their restaurant there. . .Pickup trucks will deliver filled receptacles to central loading spots along the road, and Carmel Valley Disposal Service owner George McAravy will finish the big task himself. . .The day's promoters hope, for the Valley's sake, none will refuse (refuse, get it?) to attend.

The following resolution has been passed in executive session by the Monterey County Planning Commission in the Plan A-B Valley Road controversy: "In view of comment and suggestion made by residents of the area at previous meetings and in the field today, the Road Commissioner is requested to prepare revised plans and reports in accordance with suggestions insofar as practicable and to present same to the commission at their meeting of December 29, 1952.". . .Accordingly, the matter, technically, will be continued monthly at commission meetings until their December meeting; however commission secretary Ed Demars stated they are supposed to keep the people informed of any interim changes. . .About thirty-five interested parties and seven planning commission and seven planning commission representatives showed up for luncheon last Saturday at Los Laureles Lodge. . .Following lunch, a tour of the two proposed routes gave the savants a chance to see the battle ground first hand and the delegates of both sides to point out the assets and liabilities of both plans. . .The tour ended with resumption of thr Sept. 29 hearing at Salinas which had been adjourned to continue in the Valley. The entourage met at Tularcitos School for further discussion . . . .However, since there were no further arguments by either side, the commission went into executive session. . .coming up with the aforementioned resolution.

Carmel Valley Bloodbank Day No. 4 is just around the corner – Tuesday, Oct. 28, from 3:00-6:00 p.m. You don't have to be rich- -just reasonably healthy to give the finest gift of your life. . .Listen into KMBY on Thursday, Oct. 23, at 2 p.m. to "Cross Roads of Carmel" when a dramatization of Valley men's true experiences will be aired, acted by the following cast of Valley people, Judy Brandt, Douglas Bradburn, Hugh Erwin, Sam Brandt and Parker Kimball. . .telling you excatly how it feels to be on the receiving end of the blood bottle. . .The program, thanks, is sponsored by the Browse Around Music Shop of Carmel.

SPECIAL EVENTS RECEIVES DONATION

FOLLOWING (but not echoing) some sour comments by Carmel Planning Commission members on the controversial five-man mural at Jay Hannah's radio shack on 6th avenue, along comes this happier reaction. Col. Roy N. Hillyer (right) presents Hannah with a floral horseshoe that speaks for itself as a token of well-wishing. Their work finished outside the place now, Hannah's artistic friends have contributed interior decorations too, three of which are seen here.

A Citizens Good Government Committee for the Re-election of Supervisor Andy Jacobsen has been formed, it was announced by Carmel Martin, chairman and well-known Peninsula leader.

"We believe that a public servant who has devoted so much time to giving us good government with low taxes, should be given recognition at the polls November 4th," Martin declared.

"State Board of Equalization records show that Monterey County's tax rate of $1.47 the past four years, is fourth lowest in the state, and has been maintained despite heavily increased costs caused by our tremendously increased population," Martin said.

A personal number list helps to speed your long distance calls..... Whether it's a birthday call to the folks back home, or an important business call across the nation, you'll save time if you give the operator the out-of-town number you're calling, rather than just the name and address. That way, you see, you won't have to wait while she gets the number from "Information" in the distant town. And a free personal number booklet . . . for the local and out-of-town numbers you call most often . . . is yours for the asking. Just call, send a postcard, or drop in to your nearest Pacific Telephone business office . . . and start your personal number list today.

Have you taken advantage of the lower rates on "station" calls when you call long distance? If you tell the operator you'll speak with anyone who answers at the out-of-town number you're calling, you'll find it can mean important savings for you.

COSTUMED briefly but convincingly for a take-off on Beatrice Kaye, Katy Greene was about to add her bit to the Carmel Youth Center second anniversary celebration when autograph hounds invaded her dressing room. Offering pen and pad is Myron Branson, newly elected treasurer of the center, accompanied by Babs Balzer, historian of the club.

Governor Warren has this to say:

"Dear Ernie:
It is with a great deal of pleasure that I take this opportunity to wish you every success in the coming general election.

Your re-election to the House of Representatives is well deserved because of your fine record. Your six years of sincere, dependable service in Congress is the kind of experience that we need to back up General Eisenhower and Senator Nixon in reorganizing and revitalizing our government."

GARDENING FOR HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

By CHARLES W. DELANEY

We must plan our November duties at this time. Fall is the best time to set out plants of perennials. We have mentioned some of these previously, now we will make some additions—for background planting, or in front of shrubs, hedges or a vine covered fence, plant foxglove and delphinium. In front of these use columbine, carnations, forget-me-not, lupin (Russell), Baby's breath, and Shasta daisies. Geurn is a member of the rose family that is easy to grow. It has compact foliage, one to two feet high, and bears yellow, red and white flowers from May to fall. The flowers are excellent for cutting.

Penstemon is another good perennial bloom from summer through fall, requires very little attention. The colors are pink, red and blue, and they grow from two to three feet tall.

ANTHEMIS:

Anthemis, the white or golden marguerite, grows in a compact, bushy form with daisy like flowers. If these plants are sheared into a ball form, they will produce many more blossoms, but they will be smaller. If you just allow the plant to grow normally and cut off the old spent blossoms, the flower will be larger.

ANEMONES:

Japanese Anemones are very colorful at this season. They have attractive pink and white flowers on tall, graceful stems. They like some shade, under trees, shrubs, or as background planting on the south side.

RANUNCULUS:

Ranunculus is also a popular bulbous perennial, as is the anemone. The greatest difficulty with these two, after the bulbs begin to throw out leaves, is that birds, slugs, snails and cut worms go after them. So the plants must be protected by netting, rabbit wire baskets and sprayed frequently with nicotine or lead arsenate. The first two months are the critical periods – after leaves have matured, they will be on their own.

Someone has advised soaking the bulbs before planting them, this is not only unnecessary, but will probably cause the bulb to rot. The soil they require need not contain much organic matter –bone meal is a satisfactory fertilizer. After the plants are well established you can feed with fish emulsion. Never permit the plants to become dry, however do not overwater. The ground should be moist, but not wet.

When you buy these bulbs, have the nurseryman show you which end should be planted downward.

It is best to plant them in flats or pans, and then transplant them when large enough.

Now is the time to plant all bulbs –tulips, jonquils, hyacinths. . .and try planting some in pots as we described last month.

100 YEARS EXPERIENCE

Harnessing the water power of the Sierra

1852 —Water was first put to work in Sierra gold mines served by South Yuba Water Co., a P. G. and E. parent.

1889 —Water power became electric power in this early Electra plant. Former hydraulic miners helped build it.

1949 —Getting the most out of water power, this compact new Electra has five times the capacity of the old plant.

All through the Sierra country you'll see P. G. and E. hydro-electric plants taming mountain water to bring power to you. Here, as elsewhere on our system, careful management and constantly improved efficiency have helped reduce electric rates far below the U. S. average. Today you pay $2.50, on the average, for electricity that would have cost $20 in 1889. This century of P. G. and E. experience has made good electric and gas service truly cheap throughout Northern and Central California.
